

Turning Ideas into Sustainable and Profitable Solutions

Information, product development, reformulation and changing social norms

5th October 2016 London

Turning ideas into Practice

- Support businesses and other enterprises to unlock new opportunities for collaboration and growth
- Improve food security, food integrity and food justice frameworks for All
- Enhance cross sector linkages and collaborations between academic and non-academic organisations from the industry, policy and third sectors (SMEs, NGOs, larger corporations).

This free to attend one day workshop will be attended by 30 business representatives, together with partners from government, charities and academic researchers. Our principal goal for the day is to generate partnerships for the future development of novel solutions supporting and promoting sustainable nutrition.

“Improving public health while lowering the burden of food production and distribution on the natural environment; through changes in behaviour, diet and other socio-economic factors”

Background:

The N8 AgriFood Partnership consists of the eight most research intensive universities in the North of England - Durham, Lancaster, Liverpool, Leeds, Manchester, Newcastle, Sheffield and York - working together to ensure sustainable, resilient and healthy food supplies for all.

Who you will meet:

- Food producers and processors
- Food retailers
- Food formulators
- Behaviour change experts
- Consumer science experts
- Investors and financial institutions
- SMEs, NGOs and charities

Booking details:

When: Wednesday 5 October 2016

Time: 11:00 - 15:30 (Lunch included)

Where: University of Liverpool in London
33 Finsbury Square, London, EC2A 1AG

Free to attend

For more information and to book please see our website

www.n8agrifood.ac.uk

To get involved contact: events@N8agrifood.ac.uk